

PRESS RELEASE

Transitions Art and Fashion Show

To raise funds for two Kamloops moms, one at the beginning of her journey through cancer and the other at the end.

Kelly Kernot was recently diagnosed with a cancer that can only be treated by an oncologist that specializes in that form of cancer. She has had to miss several appointments with her oncologist due to a lack of funds and transportation. She is required to stay in Vancouver for 5 days, so we also need to raise enough money for lodging and food for those days. It is likely that she will have to travel back and forth from Kamloops to Vancouver during this battle.

Jessica Michel was a single mom with four beautiful children. She battled the disease for several years until she finally succumbed to it. Her bravery and courage in the face of not only the disease but of having to leave her children without a parent was awe inspiring. Her positive attitude and gentle spirit touched everyone she met. We are raising funds to help with Jessica's final expenses and to help her children.

We will be hosting a one-day event with two shows at Old Courthouse at 7 Seymour Street West, Kamloops, BC. Tickets can be purchased at the door.
